About the Facilitator

Jacqui Coombes, has supported individuals and companies in their quest for knowledge, skills and experience throughout her career.

Jacqui graduated with a Masters degree in Statistics in 1991 and has since enjoyed a stimulating international career in the petroleum and mineral resources industry. She has worked in oil and gas for Soeker, mining for Snowdens and now runs Coombes Capability. She has just published the book “The Art and Science of Resource Estimation”.

Jacqui has also worked with student support services group in university to facilitate mathematical and statistical studies in disadvantaged groups. This taught Jacqui that skills shared are more valuable than skills hoarded.

Coombes Capability runs mentoring programs in various aspects of exploration and mining, technical report writing and communication. Jacqui’s focus is to build knowledge, skills and experience in the mining industry. This evening showcases a number of valuable tools from her four day course “Mentoring in Mining” which is designed to develop mentoring capability in technical leaders. www.coombescapability.com.au
